RAISE YOUR GAME

Today's manufacturing has evolved into a dynamic environment where change is constant. Traditional mats haven't changed for years and no longer meet the needs of modern manufacturers. We have spent the past 10 years working with some of the worlds leading manufacturers to develop anti-fatigue matting that meets the demands of today's lean manufacturing environments.

-Andersen Windows, Menomonie, WI

WHY WAIT?

It's always disturbing to be called out to a facility because someone has sustained an injury by tripping over a bad mat. From broken arms to head injuries, I've seen it all. In fact, I'm most often referred to as 'the mat guy'. Someone recently said, "here's the guy who's going to solve all our mat problems"!

In my experience, there are only two reasons that unsafe mats are left unattended:

Reason #1: It takes too long to fix.

Designing a mat just how you want is usually a complex, back and forth process that takes weeks.

Reason #2: It's cost prohibitive.

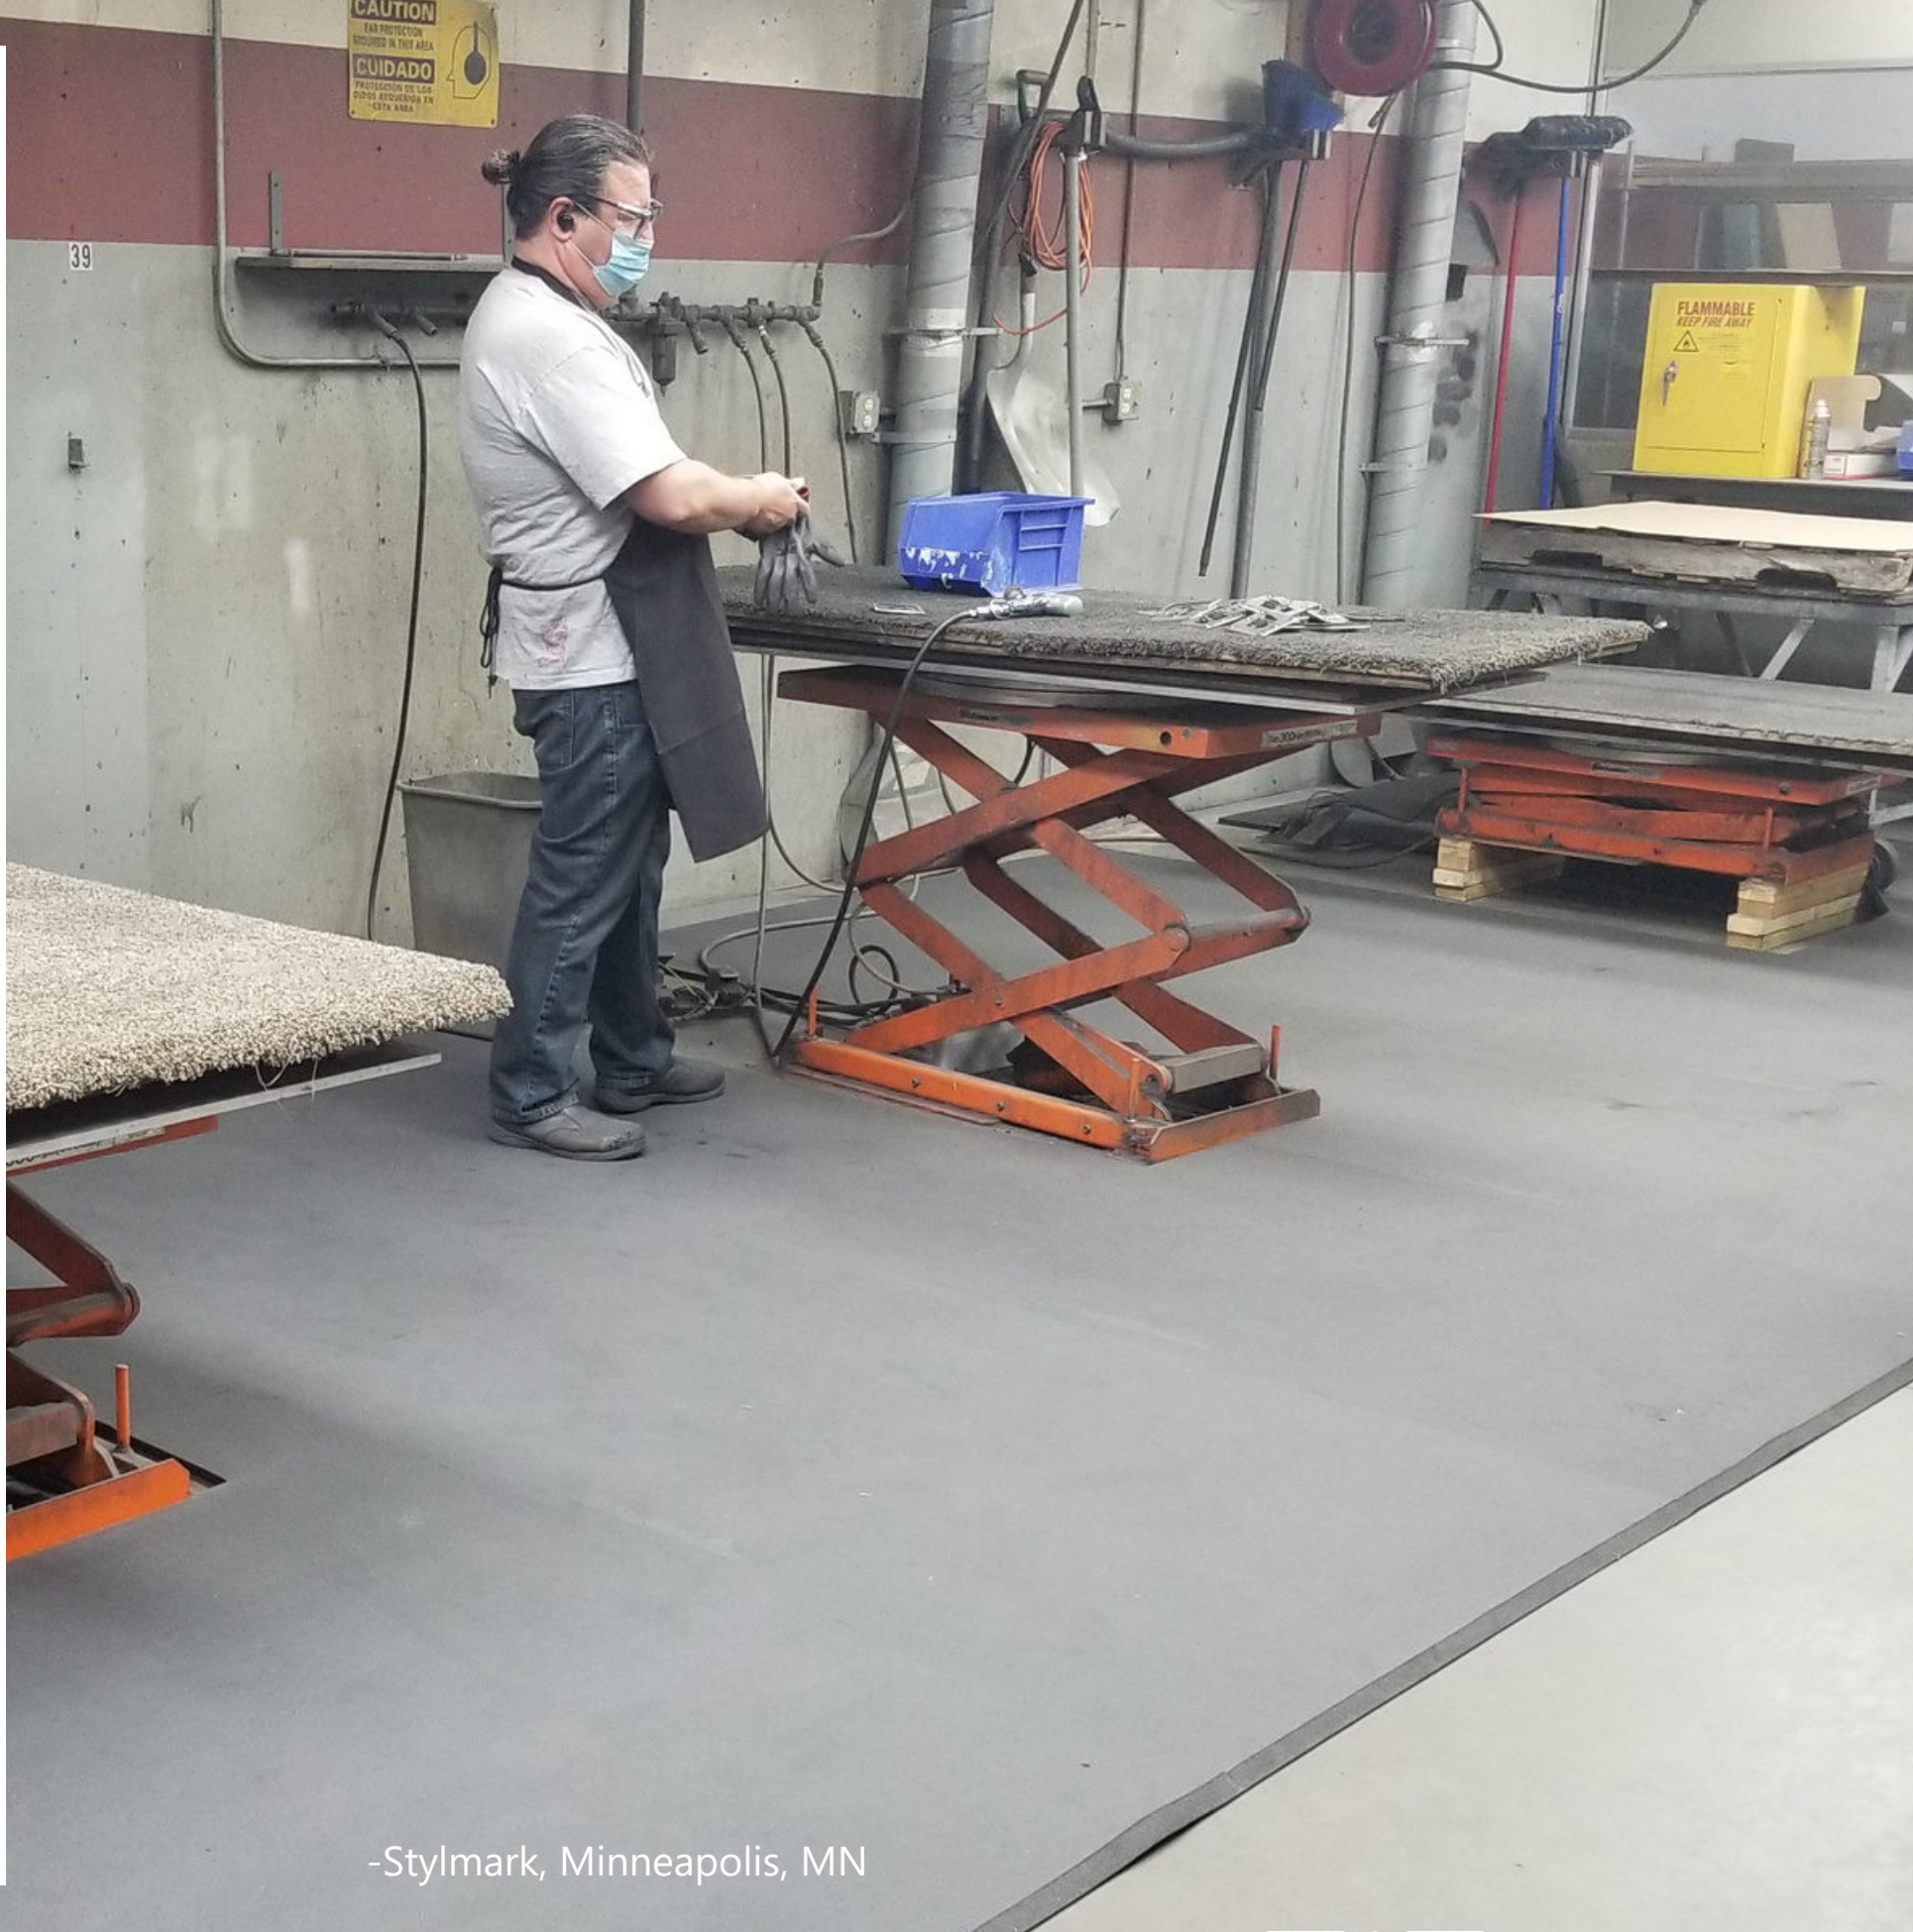

Once a quote is finally obtained for the perfect mat, it's many times higher than standard off the shelf mats.

So we've set out to remove these barriers and give you the tools you need to design the perfect mat and have it delivered quickly. We guarantee that everything in this catalog will ship within 10 business days...or else shipping is free.

So, why wait?

"AcroMat does customer service well. They were so easy to work with. From the initial sales calls to the onsite visit, AcroMat listened to our needs. They provided solutions for the different work areas in our facility from office to warehouse to machine shop and each solution met the different needs of those work areas. Delivery was quick. Each mat was labeled with the specific work space it was meant for, saving me from identifying and sorting a pallet full of mats. The one issue we had was handled quickly with little effort from me. I couldn't be more pleased with the friendly, efficient customer service, delivery and quality of product." - Betsy
